Introduction

Please read this introduction carefully.

You will be called on to submit to this community so that we can grow together.

We the Board along with the Staff of The Living Harvest (TLH) do not claim to do what we do perfectly but, we feel called by God to do it. Most of us work without pay; in fact we give our own time and money to support this ministry. Those who are paid are greatly under paid by the world's standards and do it more out of love than money. We share this with you to show you our heart for this ministry.

At the end of this introduction, you will find our program rules. These rules are in place to protect you as well as your fellow brothers in the road to recovery. God does not give us the commandments (rules) to punish but, to help us live better lives. They teach us how to respond to his love, how we were created to live and how to live in community with others. Our rules are certainly not equal to God's commandments, but they are given to help us live and grow together.

We invite you to a life that is not about "self-service" or getting "my way", but rather about growing in God's love and direction. In that relationship, we find real freedom.

Welcome to this community called The Living Harvest

Community implies BELONGING. We want you to experience being a part of this community.

Community implies being LOVED. God had created us and invites us to experience his unconditional love. It has been said, “There is nothing you can do to make God love you one iota more and nothing you can do to make God love you one iota less—He loves you completely.

Community also implies RESPONSIBILITY. It requires us to give and take, to be there for each other, and to be responsible to each other.

We want all of us to grow to become more a part of God’s community and to be a part of our community.

We recognize that we are living in a less than perfect world (God calls it sinful) and we need to learn more and more how to accept God’s love and how we love each other as we love ourselves.

Brokenness causes all of us to need to grow in three areas:

1. Accepting God’s love and then loving God.
2. Loving ourselves which is very different than selfishness, this is a humility we see perfectly only in Jesus who chose to give himself for others and;
3. If we grow in these first two, we will automatically grow to love each other and that is the way we were created in God’s image.

“We are to love God and we are to love others as we love ourselves.” (Matthew 22:37-40) Jesus says this sums up all of the laws and commands.

We, the Board and leadership do not claim to be perfect examples of God’s love, but we invite you to join our journey so we can all grow together. We have nothing but your best interests at heart.

Community Rules

You will start with some pretty strict rules. These are not to hurt you, but give you safe steps toward more freedom.

Remember that these rules represent certain steps in recovery and following them is necessary to show your acceptance of your new life and new ways. Giving up control is the first step of recovery and these rules will require you to do that and trust that following them will lead you to a better life. As you grow in the program, these restrictions will assist you in slowly transitioning into living in the real world. In the meantime you will have to suppress what Paul describes in the bible as “a continual lust for more” and submit to the rules of the program even if you don’t agree them. If you can find the peace that comes with humility and submission you will have taken one of the most important steps in recovery and will find that you will be able to grow while you grow through the journey.

- 1. Accountability: One of the strong building blocks of our community is accountability. Accountability includes being responsible to report any drugs or alcohol use by other residents or any other inappropriate behavior. ANY contact with Law Enforcement MUST BE immediately reported directly to the Executive Director or Program Director. Accountability also includes texting ED or PD when he is leaving the residence, arriving at their destination or beginning the return trip to residence. It includes following the agreed to be there when you say that you will be there. It also includes answering your phone, if you have the privilege of having one, either immediately or returning the call as soon as possible. Failure to follow these rules of accountability can result in disciplinary action or discharge from the program.
- 2. Alcohol/Drug Use: Alcohol or other drug use will put a resident in danger of immediate discharge. This includes unreported prescription medication. Random urinalysis will be conducted at any time. Refusal is an automatic discharge. If a test is positive, the resident should carefully consider what happens next. If they deny using, we will test them again using a test from another manufacturer. If the resident admits to using immediately after the first test, they will be required to go to detox and/or other consequences. If a resident is suspected of using synthetic marijuana or any other difficult to detect drugs, they will be “lab tested”, at their expense.
 - Using a substance on any TLH property, while off premises, or on pass will make you subject to immediate program evaluation, possible dismissal, or being phased back.
 - Use of any dependent substance will require 48 hour trip to detox or an approved safe environment while program status is assessed.
 - Any relapse makes you ineligible for the $1200 stipend upon completion.

- At any time you may be asked to submit a urine sample by a male staff member. The procedure is as follows. You will have 3 hours to submit a sample, if one cannot be provided within that time frame you will need to be tested by a lab at your own expense. You will not be allowed on TLH property until results have been provided.
- Any knowledge of another resident using or other rule infractions that aren't reported will not be tolerated. We are here to change and hold each other accountable or will be subject to the same consequences as the offending resident.
- Banned household items are mouthwash with alcohol, rubbing alcohol, drowsy cold medicine, Kratom, CBD, inhalants, also any other mood, or sleep altering chemicals.

3. Authority: It is not our desire to be like “prison guards” though as we grow, we understand that there is a reason to have rules and structure. All of us need and are under authority. We want to fellowship together, growing together but also recognizing the importance of submitting to authority.

- Any directives given to you by staff will be followed with respect. If you feel that directive was unreasonable politely do the task and request a meeting with the ED or PD to discuss the matter.

4. Behavior: We expect mature, cooperative behavior between our residents, volunteers, customers and anyone associated with TLH. Any threatening or aggressive behavior is grounds for disciplinary action or dismissal from the program. In addition, a persistently negative attitude or personally directed verbal attacks will not be tolerated and will be dealt with by warnings, disciplinary action or dismissal. Many of us have self-esteem and security issues stemming from our past. We must change our behavior from how it was in the past and work towards affirmation rather than attacks not only for those around us but in order to heal ourselves. Please report any inappropriate behaviors to the PD, ED or staff of TLH that you feel comfortable with. Remember, reporting this kind of behavior isn't “ratting someone out”, but is protecting you and others in the program.

- We have a zero tolerance for lying or stealing. If you are caught doing either it will be addressed immediately.
- Each resident is here to better themselves. With that being said rumors are harmful, and spreading these comments true or false will be addressed immediately.

5. Belongings: For the purposes of disputes each resident will list his personal items on arriving at the program. Each resident is responsible to keep any valuables. TLH is not responsible for any lost or stolen items.

- Any items you see in the TLH stores you would like to have, needs to be brought to the PD before 10am in person or the next day. These items will be added to your inventory sheet.

If you find an item put it to the side behind the register until you can ask for the item in person.

- All mail and packages are subject to search by TLH staff.
- All items including person, vehicle, cell phone, social media, etc. are subject to search at any time.

- 6. Box Truck: The TLH pickup and delivery truck is our life blood. When this truck arrives at any store whether picking up or dropping off all staff not running a register needs to stop and help immediately.

This includes passes for meetings, day trips, overnight trips, etc... that are not a routine part of the program. Communication about job interviews and sponsor meetings should be done at least 24 hours prior to the appointment. If it is an emergency or you are thinking about leaving/using contact the ED or PD immediately.
- 8. Cell Phones: Residents are not permitted to have phones for the first 3 weeks after arrival. You will be allowed to use the TLH home phone responsibly. We want this period to signify a building up of yourself and the distractions caused by smartphones can seriously hamper that effort. After this probation period, a resident will be permitted to have a smart phone that is monitored by TLH staff. These smart phones will not be allowed to be used at any meeting or at the store during working hours, exceptions are made for breaks and approved matters. Having a smart phone is a privilege and each resident is responsible to use his phone appropriately. Phones may be taken away as a disciplinary action and are subject to search. Headphones are not allowed at work unless on a service job or doing yard work.
 - Store phones are for business use only. If you have a call with an expected longer duration (food stamps etc.) please make arrangements with staff.
- 9. Chores: All residents have assigned chores that must be completed by 10:00 p.m. daily. Each resident is responsible for making his bed each morning, keeping his part of the room clean and keeping all his belongings neatly put away. Each resident is responsible for cleaning after himself in the community areas of the house. Also each resident is responsible for doing his personal laundry, including sheets, towels, and washcloths. Limit time in the bathroom for personal hygiene only. Rinse tub and sink when finished and hang up your towels. Failure to perform these simple tasks shows a selfish disregard for the other residents of the house and will result in a loss of privileges.

- All rooms and communal spaces are to remain clean, organized, and free of food or dishes. If you use a dish or other kitchen item wash them immediately. This is not your fellow resident's responsibility.
- All lights, fans, and other electronics will be turned off when leaving the house.

Your input is important in shaping this program for the future and is integral in helping us grow and change. It also means that if you have a program related issue; it should be brought to the ED or PD. If it has to do with one of the residents you need to address the issue with that individual and not keep it as a "secret". In extenuating circumstances you need to bring the issue to the attention to the PD or ED.
